Fund manager's comment

The fund was positive for the quarter. Equity markets moved higher, in contrast with government bonds that posted small losses. Investment grade corporate and high yield bonds were marginally positive, and USD moved higher. Emerging market equities underperformed with Chinese markets showing signs of relative stabilization. Markets were affected by changing expectations of future interest rate cuts by the Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank. The publication in the US especially of higher-than-expected inflation caused the Fed to take a more cautious stance on its future moves and led to a realignment of interest rate expectations in both the US and Europe. Greek equities rose sharply while Greek government bonds declined, outperforming peers. Increased activity in ASE, successful AIA initial public offering, reduction of state participation in listed companies and positive corporate results are indicative of improved market conditions.
